

How to connect your computer to a tv via an HDMI cord

- You will need
  - A laptop
  - HDMI cord
  - Computer
- Connect HDMI cord from computer to TV
- Grab your tv remote, hit the input button, and select the HDMI port that you plugged into your tv
- Go to your computer search bar (not the internet) and type “Display or extend to a connected display” and click it
- Select extend to a connected display
  - Your desktop should display on your tv now. If it’s blank, simply drag the internet tab you want on your tv to the right of your computer screen and it should start showing up on your tv

** These steps may differ between computer brands. To find your specific instructions, simply google “how do I display or extend to a connected display from my laptop.”**

**practice setting up before performance**